The children at the orphanage in Buhoma meanwhile have access to modern technology, which is a great improvement for their education. They now have a PC, a printer and a stable WLAN connection. The association Perlenkinder e.V. was able to finance this purchase with the help of donations.

These new resources open up many new opportunities for the children to learn and develop. It's great to see how technology is helping to give them a better education and more opportunities!

Thus the children can access a variety of educational content, such as educational videos, online books and interactive learning programs. This makes it easier for them to understand school material and discover new topics. The printer allows them to print out their work, which helps them to document their progress and organize their tasks better.

Another great benefit is the opportunity to participate in homeschooling. In addition, access to technology also gives children the chance to learn new skills that are becoming increasingly important in today's world, such as using computers, researching on the internet or even taking their first steps in programming. These skills can be very useful to them later in life and improve their chances of a better future. It's great to see how these technical improvements enrich the children's everyday lives.
