Santa Claus

December 6th, 2025

The Pearl Children from Uganda received several books for different age groups at the occasion of Santa Claus. The aim is to gradually purchase more books (picture books, children's books, youth literature, non-fiction) in order to build up a small in-house "library." So the children—most of whom enjoy reading—can find age-appropriate literature, read, learn, and work together.

In addition, a radio with speakers was purchased, giving the children access to news, music, and educational content, thus enabling them to connect with the outside world. The children always enjoy dancing—movement and music which support the learning process, promote motor skills and expression.

There will also be a surprise at Christmas—more details will be available on our website after Christmas.
